Passion is the motor of everything.

At the base there must be the passion for what you do and the consciousness of having a great responsibility towards colleagues, clients and suppliers.

Hard work and passion bring results. Therefore, if the commitment runs with enthusiasm, knowledge and talent of a highly qualified team, the success is guaranteed.

Project Milano (now PromiGroup) obtained the due recognition during the annual Epson Convention, in October 2017.

In that occasion the Brand received the "Best Project Brico Center" award, presented by the Emea Vice President Ernest Quingles, in front of a parterre composed by 100 dealers from the IT sector.
